

CURRENT STATUS:

Low concentrations of Cypress and Ash tree have been recorder in all cities except in Granada (Southern Spain), where moderate concentration of Cypain remain, and in the centre (Madrid), where moderate-high concentration of both pollen types have been recorder. The last rainfalls in the north have caused low pollen levels.